

Declaration of substantial conformity

Form for sending a pre-series sample or a working prototype — art. 6.2 of the regulations

To be completed only if you send a pre-series sample or a working prototype for evaluation. Companies sending the final, sales-ready product complete nothing.

A pre-series sample that arrives without this declaration is not evaluated. The form must be sent together with the sample, by Friday 27 November 2026: admitting a pre-series item does not move that deadline.

3. Declaration

The undersigned, as legal representative or as a person delegated by the legal representative, declares that the sample sent for evaluation is fully representative of the product intended for production and substantially conforming to the series version in materials, construction, geometries, performance and finish, save for any residual differences stated in section 4.

The undersigned further declares awareness that undeclared differences emerging during evaluation may lead to the exclusion of the product.

4. Residual differences

No residual differences: the sample corresponds to the production version.

Declaring them does not penalise the product: it helps the jury not stop at a provisional detail.
